Prof. J. Q. Dunn, in his valedictory address to the graduates, gave the young men some wholesome and valuable advice. He told them that the play days of their youth were over and that from henceforth the grave realities of life would constantly be before them, principally suggesting the question, What shall I can't what shall I drink, and Prof. J. Q. Dunn, in his valedictory address to

WITH WHAT SHALL I BE CLOTHED? As the sure road to success, he enjoined the throw their whole heart and mind into the work, or else leave it altogether and start in some other business. Physicians must ever be watchful and learn, because new things are constantly coming up, and older methods in medicine and surgery are constantly improved. But in these it should be mocessary to examine and test before indorsing everything as it is given. He warned them not to pander to the fashion in medicine of accepting any theory because it happened to come from a physician of renown and popularity. Young any theory because it happened to come from a physician of renown and popularity. Young dectors, he also argued, should be careful not to follow the advertisements of knowledge of a certain clique among the practitioners who are always anxious to rush into print on the smallest occasion. He told them to be careful and think long and ponder long over what they had to write before they gave it to the public.

Toward the close he spoke of the spirit of charity, and stated that it was a mistaken idea to suppose that a doctor should have to go to anvone and everyone, whether he would get paid or not. He said they ought to act according to the words of the Scripture: "Do unto everybody as you would like to be done by," and as everyone.

EXPECTS A DOCTOR TO PAY his bills, the physician in his turn had every right to expect other people to do the same to him. Bills should be paid promptly, whether doctor's, or any other kinds of bills, and the physician ought to see that his patients did not physician ought to see that his patients did not have too large an account.

After Prof. W. J. Asdale had called the roll of the graduates, Prof. C. B. King conferred the diplomas upon the class and Dr. S. M. Crosly made the valedictory address for the graduates in a grand elocutionary style. Prof. W. Snively presented the prizes. He accompanied this act with a very pleasant manner. Prof. J. M. Duff responded to the presentation speech in the name of the winners, and Rev. W. J. Holland pronounced the benediction, which closed the afternoon's exercises.

The banquet, which is always the most enjoyable feature of the commencement, was given in the large dining hall of the Seventh Avenue Hutel. Plates were set for 100 people, and the menu was gotten up in heat Willson's best style. It embraced everything in market, and the style of cooking would tickle the palate of an epicure.

THE TOASTS AND RESPONSES TO THEM

The Opera House was as much crowded resterday afternoon, on the occasion of the kinid annual commencement exercises of the Western Pennsylvania Medical College, as if Booth and Barrett had been on the stage to give a free representation of "Othello" to the people of Pittsburg.

The programme was opened soon after 2 o'clock with a well rendered overture by the orchestra.

Rev. W. P. Shromm made the opening prayer. Prof. James McCann, President of the inculty, was thereupon announced by Prof. J. B. Murdoch to make a few introductory remarks. The gentleman called the strength of the graduates to the importance of the occasional some well well chosen remarks, which were greatly appreciated by the

A MENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION proposed to the citizens of this Commonwealth by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for their approval or rejection at a special election to be held June 18, 1889. Published by order of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in pursuance of Article XVIII of the Constitution.

Jointresolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of this Commonwealth.

SECTION 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment is proposed to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the Eighteenth Article thereof:

AMENDMENT.

There shall be an additional article to said Constitution to be designated as Article XIX, as follows:

ARTICLE XIX.

ARTICLE XIX.

The manufacture, sale, or keeping for sale of intoxicating liquor, to be used as a beverage, is hereby prohibited, and any violation of this prohibition shall be a misdemeanor, punishable as shall be provided by law.

The manufacture, sale, or keeping for sale, of intoxicating liquor for other purposes than as a beverage may be allowed in such manner only as may be prescribed by law. The General Assembly shall, at the first session succeeding the adoption of this article of the Constitution, cauct laws with adequate penalties for its enforcement.

visions of the eighteenth article thereof:

AMENDMENT.

Strike out from section one, of article eight, the four qualifications for voters which reads as follows:

"If twenty-two years of age or upwards, he shall have paid, within two years, a state or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months, and paid at least one month before the election," so that the section which reads as follows:

"Every male citizen, twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all elections:

First. He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.

Second. He shall have resided in the State one year (or if, having previously been a qualified elector or native born citizen of the State, he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election.

Third. Ha shall have resided in the election.

he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election.

Third. He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election.

Fourth. If twenty-two years of age or upwards, he shall have paid, within two years, a state or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election," shall be amended, so as to read as follows:

Every male citizent twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at the polling place of the election district of which he shall at the time be a resident and not elsewhere:

First, He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least thirty days.

Second. He shall have resided in the State one year (or if, having previously been a qualified elector or native born citizen of the State, he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election.

Third. He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least thirty days immediately preceding the election. The legislature, at the session thereof next after the adoption of this section, shall, and from time to time thereafter may, enact laws to properly enforce this provision.

Fourth. Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a citizen for thirty days and an inhabitant of this State one year next preceding an election, except at municipal elections, and for the last twenty-one years, who shall have been a citizen for thirty days and an inhabitant of this State one year next preceding an election, except at municipal elections, and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time be a resident and not elsewhere for all officers that now are or nereafter may be elected by the people: Provided. That in time of war no elector in the actual military service of the Staffe or of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from such election district, and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which and the time and place at which such absent electors may vote, and for the return and canvas of their votes in the election district in which they respectively reside.

Fifth. For the purpose of voting, no person shall be deemed to have gained or lost a residence by reason of his presence or absence while employed in the service of the United States or the State, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the State or of the high seas, nor while a student of any college or seminary of learning, nor while kept at any almshouse or public institution, except the inmates of any home for disabled and indigent soldiers and sailors, who, for the purpose of voting, shall be decemed to reside in the election district where said home is located. Laws pholic frage hereby established."
